GENERAL INFORMATION

SCOPE OF THE CFM CREDENTIAL

Earners of the globally recognized Certified Facility Manager® (CFM®) have demonstrated competence in the field of facility management (FM) by meeting the required criteria of work experience, education and the ability to pass a comprehensive exam that covers the 11 competencies of the FM body of knowledge. CFMs work in many different industries (i.e. healthcare, retail, corporate, government, non-profit, etc.) and manage various types of facilities (i.e. hospitals, schools, hotels, office buildings, etc.). CFMs may manage one facility or more than 100 and may manage facilities in different parts of the world. The Certified Facility Manager® (CFM®) credential sets the industry standard for ensuring the knowledge and competence of practicing facility managers.

11 CFM Competency Areas

1. Occupancy and Human Factors
2. Operations and maintenance
3. Sustainability
4. Facility Information Management/
Technology Management
5. Risk Management
6. Communication
7. Performance and Quality
8. Leadership and Strategy
9. Finance and Business
10. Real Estate
11. Project Management

WHY EARN THE CFM?

The Certified Facility Manager® (CFM®) credential sets the industry standard for ensuring the knowledge and competence of practicing facility managers as the most respected global credential in facility management.

Now more than ever, recognizing competency, establishing benchmarks and setting performance standards are vital to the global economy. Never have public and private sector employers relied as much on certification organizations as they do today. Professional associations are now taking a lead role in the development of credentialing programs, and IFMA's CFM® program was the first, and is still the only globally recognized, certification in facility management.

IFMA's certification process is designed to assess competency in the field through work experience, education and the ability to pass a comprehensive exam that covers 11 competency areas that make up the facility management body of knowledge. Since the program began in 1992, more than 6,000 facility managers from 38 countries have achieved this prestigious recognition. Currently there are approximately 3,000 active CFMs globally.

COMPETENCY-BASED

The CFM® Exam is competency-based, testing what a candidate can do compared to standards that define the practice of facility management. One cannot take a course or a simple knowledge-based exam to earn the credential. IFMA's competency-based program is at a higher level than a knowledge-based program, reflecting the growing importance of facility management in the international business world.

RECOGNIZED GLOBALLY

In addition, the CFM® is the only global facility management certification available. Goals of IFMA's certification program include:

INDIVIDUAL AND WORKPLACE BENEFITS

The credibility and recognition that come with earning the CFM benefits both the individual who earns the credential and the organizations that employ the CFM.

ABOUT IFMA

Founded in 1980, IFMA is the world's largest and most widely recognized international association for facility management professionals, supporting 24,000 members in 105 countries. IFMA's Certified Facility Manager® (CFM®) credential is globally recognized as the most reliable standard for distinguishing the achievements of facility management, reinforcing the association's claim for facility management and strengthening the CFM's position as the ultimate authority in facility management.

ELIGIBILITY CRITERIA

EDUCATION AND WORK EXPERIENCE

Candidates must meet the following education and work experience requirements. Internships do not count toward FM experience.

	Option 1	Option 2
Education	Bachelor’s or Masters level Facility Management degree	No FM degree
FM Work Experience	3 years	5 years

ETHICS REQUIREMENT

An Ethics Assessment is required for all CFM credential applicants. Those holding the CFM credential are required to complete an Ethics Assessment every other renewal cycle or every six (6) years.

Candidates have an option of two current Ethics Assessments which have been approved by the Certification Commission. If a candidate’s employer requires an Ethics training/ assessment, and the training meets the requirements of the International Ethics Standards Coalition (IESC), the program can be submitted, along with the Ethics Submission Form, for approval and applied towards the Ethics requirement. All Ethics Assessments can be used towards maintenance activities for the recertification form. See the table on the following page detailing the options for satisfying the Ethics Requirement.

Candidates have up to 30 days from the date on which they pass the exam to complete the Ethics Requirement and submit the required documentation. Any individual who does not complete the Ethics requirement and submit the required documentation to the CAMP record will have the status of the CFM credential moved to inactive and will not be in good standing. Candidates are notified and reminded of the requirement in the email received upon passing the CFM exam and again the week prior to the 30 day period.

Ethics Assessment Options

COMPETENCY AREAS

Successful candidates will have experience in the following competency areas. These eleven areas have been identified as the core areas of skills and knowledge necessary for a successful facility manager:

- Occupancy and Human Factors
- Operations and Maintenance
- Finance and Business
- Leadership and Strategy
- Communication
- Performance & Quality
- Facility Information Management & Technology Management
- Sustainability
- Real Estate
- Project Management
- Risk Management

Ideally, candidates should have knowledge of and experience in all 11 areas; however, it is possible for a candidate to have experience in most competency areas, and knowledge of the others, and still pass the exam. (See Test Content Outline)

Unsure if you meet eligibility requirements? You can request a review of application BEFORE you submit the application (please see Step 3 on how to fill out the CFM Application). To do this, you must still fill out the application; however, please select “Saved” versus “Submitted.” Once you complete the application and save it, you must send an email request to Rhonda Hager, IFMA Credentials Team Lead, at rhonda.hager@ifma.org and request a preliminary review.

More questions about CFM Exam eligibility? Contact Rhonda Hager, IFMA Credentials Team Lead, at rhonda.hager@ifma.org.

CANDIDATE EXAMINATION PROCESS

1. Meet Eligibility Requirements

See Eligibility Criteria.

2. Prepare for the CFM Exam

Candidates should prepare for the exam prior to submitting the application for approval. Once the application is approved, candidates have 90 days in which to schedule and take the exam.

If you have never set up a username or password with IFMA, you can visit www.ifma.org and choose Member Login to create a user account. If you encounter any issues, please email credentials@ifma.org for assistance.

See Appendix for the CFM® Application.

4. Submit the Application and Payment

To complete the application process, the CFM Application Payment Form must be completed, submitted, and confirmed. (Please note: If you asked for preliminary approval, you will need to go back into CAMP and hit Submit and apply payment before you receive the information on making your exam appointment.)

Tiered pricing for the CFM application and recertification fees is regionally based. To determine which fee(s) apply to you, view the Tiered Pricing chart in the appendix, find the country associated with your home address, and determine the applicable fee. Discounted rates apply to tiers 2 and 3.

- If the exam payment has been pre-paid by an employer, the candidate should see the approved CFM Exam Payment form in the “Completed Forms” section of Applications and Forms. If not, choose the “PO” option and in the PO# field, enter the name of the employer and indicate “prepaid”.
- If the employer or candidate is paying for the application fee by check, the candidate should complete the form choosing "Pay with Check." An invoice will be forwarded to the employer and the application will be processed when payment is received.
- If either the employer or the candidate is paying the application fee by credit card, “Credit Card” should be chosen and the prompts followed to process the payment. Credit card payments are processed immediately and the application moves into the approval queue.
- If you will be seeking reimbursement for the CFM Exam through the Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) under the G.I. Bill, click here for more details and instructions.

5. Approval/Denial of Application

After submitting your application and payment online, the approval process can take up to 21 days. If an application is denied, Credentials Staff will follow-up with the applicant accordingly. In the event an application is denied, any payment that has been processed will be refunded. Applicants who fail to demonstrate that they meet all of the eligibility requirements will not be permitted to take the exam. Note: candidates have 30 days from the date on which they pass the CFM exam to complete the Ethics Training requirement and submit the required documentation in the CAMP record. Any candidate who does not fulfill this requirement within the 30-day period following the exam date will not earn the credential.

A portion of applications will be selected for random audit. If selected for audit, the applicant must provide documentation to 1) verify the applicant's work experience by providing written documentation to verify employment history and 2) verify the applicant's FM degree (if applicable) by providing an official transcript.

6. Exam Scheduling

If the application is approved, you will receive an email with instructions for scheduling an exam appointment with IFMA's test administration vendor, Prometric. The exam is offered via computer-based testing at Prometric testing centers and via live-remote proctored administration from your home or office. Steps on scheduling an exam with Prometric will be sent via e-mail with the approval notice.

The exam eligibility period is 90 days from the date the application is approved, and there are policies regarding rescheduling and/or cancelling an exam date. This information will be included in the scheduling email. The candidate must take the exam during the 90-day period.

7. Sitting for the Exam

Exam Format

The CFM Exam consists of 180 multiple-choice questions delivered in random order. There are 20 pretest items which do not apply towards exam results and 160 exam items. All questions have a single answer. There are no pre-set sections. The test is strictly pass/fail based on the total number of correct answers. Candidates may mark questions they wish to skip and return to later. In addition, at the end of the exam candidates will be alerted to any questions which have not been answered. If time allows, candidates may return to complete those questions. At the present time, the exam is offered in English only. Candidates are allowed to use scratch paper during the exam session. Candidates taking the exam in a test center must turn in the scratch paper prior to leaving the exam appointment. Candidates taking the exam via remote proctoring must present both sides of the paper to the proctor before and after the exam administration to ensure no information or test content is present.

Appointments are scheduled for 5 hours to provide ample time for the tutorial, etc., but when the actual exam begins, the timer will count down from 4 hours. There are no scheduled breaks. Fifteen

Exam Format

- 180 four-option single answer multiple-choice questions (includes 20 non-scored items)
- 4-hour exam

- No books/No notes
- Scratch paper and pencil available

minutes have been added to the 3.75-hour testing period to allow examinees to take “bio breaks” as needed. Please note that the timer will continue to run.

Exhibits/Images

All exhibits depict a single item or symbol. There are no large drawings such as floor plans. However, in some cases, examinees will still need to scroll to the limits of the exhibit window to be sure they have seen the entire drawing. If the exhibit does not appear, please click inside the window area.

Exam Development

IFMA adheres to common and best-practice testing and psychometric theory to ensure validity, reliability, and fairness. To meet this standard, the CFM® exam was developed through typical steps. First, a job analysis was conducted to identify the critical, important, and frequent task and knowledge measures of a facilities manager by a representative group of subject matter experts (SMEs). The results of the job analysis provided the basis of an examination specification including the number of questions that should be allocated for each of the 11 competency areas. Using the examination specifications, SMEs wrote and reviewed questions. Next, exam forms were assembled and finalized. A standard setting study was also conducted to determine a passing score for the CFM exam. Prior to the release of the exam, an item analysis was conducted on the previous CFM exam forms. Items not performing well were flagged and reviewed by SMEs to determine if they were appropriate to be used on the exam. Finally, all forms developed are equated to ensure that the exams are equally difficult.

Special Accommodations

The Certification Commission and its testing vendor, Prometric, comply with the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) which requires that the examination is offered in a place and manner that is accessible to candidates with disabilities. This may require reasonable modifications. Prometric will provide candidates reasonable auxiliary aids and services, except where it may fundamentally alter the validity of the exam results. Available accommodations include, but are not limited to, a reader, a scribe, and extended testing time.

If you are seeking special accommodations, you must indicate this on your application and submit a request form for accommodations (see appendix). To request accommodations, you and your health care provider will each need to complete one form, the Candidate Form: Request for Special Exam Accommodation and the Provider Form: Request for Special Exam Accommodation-Physician Statement, to document the disability and the need for accommodation. These forms can be found in the applicant record in CAMP.

There is no additional charge for special accommodations. Each request will be evaluated individually by IFMA. If approved, IFMA will alert Prometric of the necessary accommodations. Once a candidate has requested special accommodations, he/she will not be able to schedule an appointment with Prometric until the request is processed. The candidate will be contacted by email regarding the approval status of the special testing accommodations request.

8. Comply with Exam Administration Requirements

The exam is offered via computer-based testing at Prometric testing centers and via live-remote proctored (ProProctor) administration from your home or office.

Note about Remote Proctored Administrations

Candidates testing via remote proctored administration will be monitored and recorded via video and audio throughout the administration by a remote proctor. The recorded information is used to maintain the security of the test administration and may be used to determine or verify if any violations of exam procedures have occurred. The testing vendor collects facial recognition biometrics during the check-in process and uses this information to ensure that the candidate, and only the candidate, is present during the administration. Candidates must agree to being recorded in order to proceed with the exam administration. Candidates who do not agree to being recorded will not be allowed to proceed with the exam session.

Candidates wishing to test via remote proctoring should complete the system readiness check to ensure the computer meets the necessary technical requirements to run the ProProctor application. Candidates must review the Pro Proctor User Guide found on the IFMA web site for additional information about the remote-proctored technical and administration requirements. By completing the Rules and Regulations section of the candidate application, applicants attest that they have read, understand, and agree (if selected by the candidate as method of administration) the requirements of the remote proctored administration.

Candidates must select a testing location that is indoors, well-lit, free from background noise and disruptions, and does not have a third party within or entering the room. Workstations must be clear of pens, paper (except the approved and verified scratch paper), electronic devices, etc.

Arrival

Test Center Administration

It is recommended that candidates arrive at the test center at least 30 minutes prior to the scheduled exam appointment. Candidates who arrive at the test site after their scheduled exam times will not be admitted.

Remote Proctored Administration

Candidates testing via remote-proctoring should launch the exam 15 minutes before the scheduled start time in order to complete the onboarding and inspection of the testing environment.

Identification

Candidates must provide two forms of identification, with one being a valid, unexpired government-issued ID with a signature, a photograph that looks like the candidate, and an expiration date.

Acceptable examples of government-issued, photo ID include:

- Driver's license
- Passport
- Military ID
- Alien ID/Resident Alien Card (*If the ID has picture but no signature, it must be provided with a form of signature ID (Credit Card) in the same name.)

Unacceptable forms of ID include but are not limited to an expired ID, an ID without an expiration date, Social Security Card, or an ID with no photo.

Additionally, one form of ID with a valid signature is required. A credit card with signature will satisfy this requirement.

Note: The name on the IDs must match the name used to apply for the exam, or the candidate will not be allowed to take the exam.

Beginning the Exam

Test Center Administration

Once the candidate's information has been verified at the test center, candidates will be escorted to a workstation by test center staff. Candidates must remain in the seat during the exam except when authorized to leave by test center staff. Candidates must raise a hand to notify test center staff if:

- There are problems with the computer
- An error message appears on the computer screen (do not clear the message)
- Candidate needs to take a break (testing time will NOT be suspended)
- Candidate needs the test center staff for any other reason

Remote Proctored Administration

After passing the identification check, candidates must complete a 360° environmental check to inspect the testing area and a candidate person check to inspect the candidate's sleeves, pockets, and glasses using the computer's web cam. Additional information about the environmental and person checks and requirements are included in the ProProctor User Guide.

Once these checks are satisfactorily completed, the candidate will be connected to the proctor to begin the exam session.

Test Administration Conduct

Any candidate who engages in misconduct or does not comply with the test proctor's warning to discontinue inappropriate behavior may be dismissed from the test site/administration, have exam results invalidated, or be subject to other sanctions. Fraud, deceit, dishonesty, or other irregular behavior in connection with taking the exam is strictly prohibited.

Enhanced Exam Security – A Stringent Focus on Protecting the Honest Test Taker and Ensuring a Fair Test Experience

Prometric conducts strict inspections of all eyeglasses, jewelry and other accessories to inspect for camera devices that could be used to capture exam content. All candidates will be required to remove their eyeglasses for close visual inspection by the TCAs/remote proctors. These inspections will take a few seconds and will be done at check-in and again upon return from breaks. In addition:

- Jewelry outside of wedding and engagement rings is prohibited. Candidates should not wear other jewelry to the administration.
- Hair accessories are subject to inspection. Candidates should refrain from wearing ornate clips, combs, barrettes, headbands, and other hair accessories as they may be prohibited from wearing them in the testing administration. Test center candidates may be asked to store them in their locker.

- If a candidate is caught with a camera device prior to entering the testing administration, it will be confiscated (test center), and the candidate will not be allowed to test.
- If a candidate is caught with a camera device during the testing administration, it will be confiscated (test center), and the exam will be terminated.
- Leaving the camera view (remote proctored administrations) while the exam is in progress is strictly prohibited.
- Candidates with long hair that covers ears will be asked to pull hair back to ensure nothing is attached to the ear that could provide an unfair advantage (i.e. Bluetooth earpiece).

Exam Results

Upon completion of the exam, the candidate is notified immediately regarding pass/fail status. IFMA Credentials staff will confirm the results within 20 days for those candidates who have completed the ethics assessment prior to taking the exam. Candidates who have not completed the ethics requirement prior to taking the exam must do so and submit the required documentation in the CAMP record within 30 days of the date on which the candidate took the certification exam. Candidates who have met all requirements for certification should receive certificate packets within 30 days of the successful testing date or completion of the ethics assessment, whichever occurs last.

9. Obtain Certificate

A paper certificate shall be issued to all credential holders who pass the exam, and shall include the following:

- | | |
|--|---|
| • Credential holder's name | • IFMA as the certification issuer |
| • Credential holder's ID number and credential serial number | • Signature of Certification Commission Chair |
| • Credentials program title | • Certificate term of validity |

The certificate is the sole property of IFMA and must be returned if certification status is suspended or revoked.

A secure digital badge will be issued to credential holders as well as instructions for claiming the badge.

Candidates who have earned the CFM® certification must abide by IFMA's policy concerning the use of the designation for various purposes including logos and trademarks (See Ownership of the Mark and Logo). Additionally, all credential holders shall be listed in IFMA's Public Credentials Registry. If the CFM allows the credential to cancel due to neglecting to meet recertification requirements, or the CFM credential is cancelled by the CFM governing body for non-adherence to the CFM Code of Conduct, the candidate will not use the designation or logo in any way. Violation may be cause for legal action.

10. Recertification

Recertification through continued study or participation in industry sponsored events demonstrates that designees are using the knowledge and skills represented by the certification. By using the designation, you are promoting your high level of experience and knowledge. If no program were in place to keep up with the dynamic changes in facility management, then the power and prestige of the designation would be diminished. The CFM is a constant reflection of expertise and professionalism; thus, worth maintaining.

The CFM Certification is valid through December 31, three (3) years from the date of the CFM exam or the last recertification date. To maintain the CFM credential, a list of the activities performed along with the appropriate supporting documentation including a processing fee must be submitted to IFMA credentialing department every three years. CFMs are required to complete at least three activities in a

Candidates must complete the recertification process below to maintain their credential:

- Complete and submit the CFM® Recertification Form and required supporting documentation. (See Appendix for link to the Recertification Maintenance Worksheet.)
- Complete and submit the CFM® Recertification Payment Form.
- Meet the Ethics Training requirement every 6 years (every other renewal cycle) by completing an Ethics Assessment (see Ethics Requirement). Ethics Training may be used towards the FM-related Education Category.
- IFMA staff will review the submitted documentation and notify the CFM of the recertification outcome by email within 30 days of submission. Those who successfully recertify will receive a certificate packet following approval.
- IFMA sends out recertification notices, as a courtesy, beginning 6 months prior to the CFM expiration date for all active CFMs. It is imperative that CFMs keep their contact information current with IFMA. It remains the responsibility of the CFM to submit the recertification documents on time.
- Renewal applications will not be accepted from individuals whose certification is in a state of suspension or has been revoked.
- A portion of applications will be selected for random audit. If selected for audit, the applicant must provide documentation as requested by the certification program to validate the information submitted with the application.

Upon expiration, the CFM term moves into a 3 month “grace period” during which a certified individual may renew the certification without penalty. After the 3 month grace period, there is a 3 month “cancellation pending” period during which the CFM can still submit recertification documents, there is, however, a $100 late fee charged during this period.

See appendix for Recertification Worksheet, CFM® Maintenance Program, and CAMP Access Instructions.

CFM® EXPIRATION AND RCFM® PROGRAM

What if my CFM designation is expired?

After your official CFM® expiration date, there is a three-month grace period in which you may renew without penalty. If a recertification package is received anywhere from three months and one day to six months after the expiration date, it will also need to include a late fee of US $100.00. The rules of the Certification Commission mandate that CFMs who go more than six months past their expiration date without renewing their CFM, will lose the credential, and must retake the CFM Exam in order to reinstate it.

Reminder notices are sent out as a courtesy; it is each CFM's professional obligation to renew their CFM in a timely manner. It is also the CFM's responsibility to ensure that address records are kept current.

What is the Retired CFM (RCFM) program?

A Retired CFM category has been established for CFMs who have retired or who have otherwise left the profession and want to indicate past certification. There are no age or renewal requirements for RCFM, however the CFM must apply no more than 6 months past the expiration date of the most recent recertification period. The RCFM application form is available through IFMA's CAMP system. For more details about RCFM, click here.

See appendix for Retired CFM (RCFM) Program Application.

CFM Inactive Status

It is possible for an active CFM to move to a temporary Inactive Status under the following situations:

- Serious illness of CFM or an immediate family member
- Extended unemployment (longer than 6 months)
- Active Duty Military
- Death of an immediate family member

The inactive period will last for one year from the date prior to the cancellation date of the CFM. During this time, the CFM can obtain sufficient maintenance activities in order to renew the credential. The expiration date will be 3 years from the last expiration date of the CFM credential.

CERTIFICATION POLICIES

This section describes IFMA's certification policies. The figure below lists the various certification policies.

Candidate Fairness Policies

Accommodations

The Certification Commission and its testing vendor, Prometric, comply with the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) which requires that the examination is offered in a place and manner that is accessible to candidates with disabilities. This may require reasonable modifications. Prometric will provide candidates reasonable auxiliary aids and services, except where it may fundamentally alter the validity of the exam results. Available accommodations include, but are not limited to, a reader, a scribe, and extended testing time.

If you are seeking special accommodations, you must indicate this on your application and submit a request form for accommodations. Specific instructions for requesting exam accommodations are found in Sitting for the CFM Exam.

Nondiscrimination

IFMA adheres to the principles of fairness and due process, and endorse the principles of equal opportunity.

IFMA credentials programs shall not discriminate or deny opportunity to anyone on the grounds of gender, age, religion, national or ethnic origin, marital status, veteran status, sexual orientation or disability.

It is essential that an equal opportunity for success is provided to every participant in each program, and that no person or group is given special treatment in the attainment and continuation of any credential.

Program Complaints and Feedback

Complaints Definition

Individuals with feedback regarding the assessment process, personnel or other elements of the credentials process are encouraged to discuss these with the individuals involved to try to resolve the matter informally. In some cases, however, informal resolution is not possible, and individuals may wish to file a formal complaint.

A complaint is a formal request pertaining to a grievance in the assessment process, personnel or other elements of the certification process that is not related to the certification or recertification itself, refer to Appeals.

First Level of Complaint – Staff Review

A complaint shall be submitted in writing to the credentials staff within 30 days of the incident's occurrence. The written submission shall include sufficient objective evidence to substantiate the claims which will allow for a decision to be made and request the appropriate action to be taken. Dissatisfaction based on hearsay shall not be considered as a complaint. Anonymous complaints shall not be considered. The credentials staff shall confirm receipt of the complaint via email upon receipt along with a copy of the document explaining the process.

Emailed complaints should be submitted to rhonda.hager@ifma.org or credentials@ifma.org.

Mailed complaints should be addressed to:

Credentials Department
c/o IFMA
800 Gessner Road, Suite 900
Houston, Texas 77024-4257

When possible, the credentials staff will seek staff resolution related to the complaint. If action is required, the credentials staff will refer the matter to an appropriate staff member to resolve if possible. A staff member who rendered the original decision should not be the same individual responsible for reviewing the complaint. Any matters of confidentiality, conflict of interest, and impartiality will be taken into account. The responsible staff member shall take action to resolve the issue and communicate the resolution to the individual and the credentials staff within 30 calendar days of receipt of the complaint.

If informal resolution cannot be achieved, the Review Committee process below will be followed. Complaints that cannot be resolved by certification staff to the complainant's satisfaction within thirty (30) days of receipt will be forwarded by the credentials staff to the Chair of the Certification Commission along with any relevant information used in making the initial decision.

Second Level of Complaint – Review Committee

The Chair of the Certification Commission will appoint an ad-hoc Review Committee of three or more individuals, who may or may not be members of the Commission and who will review the evidence in the case, and make a determination within sixty (60) days of the original receipt.

Once a decision is reached, the credentials staff shall send the complainant a letter, via email, communicating the Review Committee's decision. The decision of the Review Committee will be final. Submission, review, and resolution of the complaint shall not result in any discriminatory actions against the complainant.

Disciplinary Proceedings

In order to maintain and enhance the credibility of the certification program, the Certification Commission has adopted the following procedures to allow individuals to bring complaints concerning the conduct of CFM certificants to the Commission.

In the event of a violation as defined below, the Commission may reprimand or suspend the individual or may revoke certification.

Grounds for Sanctions and Invalidation

Sanctions may be imposed and/or a certification earned by completing IFMA's certification requirements may be invalidated by the Certification Commission when it has been discovered that the certification should not have been issued in the first place and/or for any of the following reasons:

- Obtaining the certification through the use of fraud or deceit or assisting another person to do so; or
- Unauthorized possession, distribution, or use of any assessment-related materials or assisting another person to do so; or
- Failure to cooperate reasonably with any disciplinary investigation by the designee or Certification Commission; or
- Violation of the Code of Conduct for CFMs, Commission certification rules, requirements, and/or policies.

First Level of Review – Staff Review

Individuals may file a complaint against a certification holder by submitting a written document to the Credentials Designee which includes the stated complaint and relevant supporting materials. Anonymous complaints shall not be considered.

Upon receipt of a written complaint, the complaint shall be reviewed by the designee to ascertain if the criteria for acceptance of a complaint are met. All three (3) of the following acceptance criteria must be met:

1. Complainant must have personal knowledge of the alleged violation or misbehavior or must be in a position to supply relevant and reliable documentation.
2. Complainant must demonstrate by documentation and factual evidence that the complaint involves an issue(s) directly related to the certification program standards or Code of Conduct for CFMs. Matters of a personal nature or matters not related to the criteria set forth will not be considered.
3. The complaint will not be processed if certification records show that the named person is no longer a certification holder unless the complaint is related to such person representing him- or herself as having a current certification.

Accepted complaints will be first processed by the designee within sixty (60) days of receipt for the purpose of attempting to resolve the complaint informally. A written notice will be sent to the individual who is the subject of the complaint, who shall have the opportunity to respond to the complaint. The individual submitting the complaint shall also receive notice that the complaint is being reviewed. If resolution by the designee is not possible, the situation will be escalated to the Certification Commission Chair.

Details of a complaint shall be confidential throughout the resolution process. Staff, Commission, and Committee members who hear a complaint shall keep all information confidential, available to others only on a need-to-know basis.

Second Level of Review – Review Committee

The Certification Commission Chair will appoint an ad-hoc Review Committee of three or more individuals, who may or may not be members of the Commission and who will review the evidence in the case, including the initial determination, and make a determination within sixty (60) days of the original receipt. The Review Committee may be assisted in the conduct of its investigation by members of the Commission, IFMA credentials staff, or legal counsel. The designee exercises general supervision over all investigations.

Both the individual submitting the complaint and the certificant who is the subject of the investigation (and his or her employer, if applicable) may be contacted for additional information with respect to the complaint. The Review Committee, or the Commission on its behalf, may at its discretion contact such other individuals who may have knowledge of the facts and circumstances surrounding the complaint.

Upon completion of an investigation, the Review Committee makes a determination whether there has been a violation of Commission policies and rules. The Review Committee will make a recommendation of its findings to the Commission and recommend a sanction, if it determines a violation has occurred. The Commission will review the determination and recommended sanction and may elect to accept, reject, or modify the Review Committee's recommendation. These sanctions may include, but are not limited to: written reprimand, suspension, revocation, or permanent revocation.

Once a decision is reached, the designee will notify the certification holder, complainant, and the certificant's employer (if involved in the investigation) of the written decision.

The certificant may appeal the decision following the procedures outlined in the Appeals Policy. Submission, investigation and decision on complaints shall not result in any discriminatory actions against those involved.

Reprimand in the form of a written notice from the designee normally is sent to a certificant who has received his or her first substantiated complaint. Suspension normally is imposed on a certificant who has received two substantiated complaints. Termination normally is imposed on a certificant who has received two substantiated complaints within a two year period, or three or more substantiated complaints. The Commission may at its discretion, however, impose any of the sanctions, if warranted, in specific cases.

Certificants who have been terminated will have their certification revoked and may not be considered for IFMA certification in the future. If certification is revoked, any and all certificates or other materials requested by the Commission must be returned promptly to the Commission.

Appeals

Appeal Definition

An appeal is a formal request for reconsideration of an adverse decision made by the certification program related to an individual's achievement of certification or recertification or disciplinary issues.

First Level of Appeal – Staff Review

Applicants, candidates, or certificants who are notified of an adverse decision related to certification, recertification, and/or disciplinary issues may appeal the decision by sending a written notice of the appeal to the certification program within 30 calendar days of the adverse decision notification. The appellant shall clearly set forth the reasons he or she believes the decision was improperly decided, including documentation to support such claim. The designee shall confirm receipt of the letter of appeal via email upon receipt along with a copy of the document explaining the process.

Emailed appeals should be submitted to rhonda.hager@ifma.org.

Mailed appeals should be addressed to:

Credentials Department
c/o IFMA
800 Gessner Road, Suite 900
Houston, Texas 77024-4257

Appeals that cannot be resolved by certification staff within thirty (30) days of receipt will be forwarded by the designee to the Chair of the Certification Commission along with any relevant information used in making the initial decision.

Second Level of Appeal – Appeal Committee

The Chair of the Certification Commission will appoint an ad-hoc Appeal Committee who will review the evidence in the case, and make a determination within sixty (60) days of the original receipt. No current members of the Commission or Review Committee may serve on the Appeal Committee; further, no one with any personal involvement or conflict of interest may serve on the Appeal Committee. Members of the Appeal Committee may be reimbursed for reasonable expenses incurred in connection with the activities of the Appeal Committee.

Basis for Appeal

The Appeal Committee may only review whether the determination was inappropriate because of:

- material errors of fact, or
- failure of the Commission or Review Committee to conform to published criteria, policies, or procedures.

Appeal Procedure

Only facts and conditions up to and including the time of the initial determination are considered during an appeal. The appeal will not include a hearing or any similar trial-type proceeding. Legal counsel is not expected to participate in the appeal process, unless requested by the appellant and approved by the Commission and the Appeal Committee. The Commission and Appeal Committee may consult legal counsel.

Written appellate submissions and any reply submissions may be made by authorized representatives of the appellate and of the Commission. Submissions are made according to whatever schedule is reasonably established by the Appeal Committee. The decision of the Appeal Committee either affirms or overrules the determination of the Commission, but does not address a sanction imposed by the Commission. The decision of the Appeal Committee, including a statement of the reasons for the decision, is reported to the Commission and the IFMA Board of Directors.

Once a decision is reached, the designee shall send the appellant a letter, via email, communicating the Appeal Committee's decision. The decision of the Appeal Committee will be final and binding upon the Commission, the certificant who is subject to the termination, and all other persons. Submission, investigation and decision on appeals shall not result in any discriminatory actions against the appellant.

Security Policies

Privacy: Confidentiality and Security of Individual Information

IFMA shall safeguard the privacy of individuals and shall hold in confidence and in a secure manner the information obtained in the course of credentials program activities, including those of all volunteers and contractors acting on its behalf.

Information about an individual shall not be disclosed to a third party by IFMA personnel without the written consent of the individual. Where the law requires information to be disclosed to a third party, the individual shall be notified of the information provided.

Requests for verification of progress in attaining credentials shall be provided only to the participant, unless his/her permission is granted in writing allowing release to others. Progress information shall be provided in writing and/or electronically.

Requests by any person for verification of an individual's credential status may be responded to by phone, online or in writing. Only an indication of whether an individual has a valid credential, the candidate ID number, and issuance/expiration date shall be provided; the status of in-progress or unsuccessful participants is not disclosed; even the fact that an application has been submitted shall not be disclosed.

Confidentiality and Security of Assessment Instruments and Scoring Keys

To ensure the security of the examination, all test materials are confidential and will not be released to any person or agency. IFMA shall safeguard the assessment instruments and scoring keys/rubrics during the course of credentials program activities at all levels of the organization, including those of all volunteers and contractors acting on its behalf. Personnel handling the assessment instruments and scoring keys shall be provided procedures for the secure handling of exams and shall attest to reading and understanding them prior to their handling of the materials.

Exam Security

IFMA uses several methods to prevent cheating and to ultimately ensure that the exam items are intact and individuals are not cheating. The methods include managing and monitoring the test sites and procedures, monitoring digital communication for exposed items and monitoring psychometrics and managing item banks such as retiring items that have been frequently used.

All candidates are required to provide identification documents, and individuals who fail to provide valid identification will be refused admission to test.

Applicants must attest to maintain the confidentiality of exam content when completing the exam application.

Records Control

Scope of Records Control System

A credentials records control system shall be maintained to ensure that credentials program records are identified, managed, and disposed of in a manner designed to ensure integrity of the program and confidentiality of the information.

No Retention Required

Documents and other materials (including originals and duplicates) that are not otherwise required to be retained, are not necessary to the functioning or continuity of IFMA and which have no legal significance may be destroyed when no longer needed. Examples include draft documents, duplicate copies of records that are no longer needed, reminder messages, miscellaneous correspondence not requiring follow-up or action. No specific retention requirements are assigned to these types of documents.

Security of Records

IFMA shall restrict access to the credentials records maintained in IFMA's database system to those personnel requiring access to accomplish credentials-related duties. Access to credentials records shall be by authorization of the department head or designee only.

Managing Bias Policies

Impartiality

IFMA places the utmost importance on integrity and impartiality in carrying out its activities.

It is essential that an equal opportunity for success is provided to every candidate in each program, just as it is of paramount importance that all policies and procedures contribute to the development, oversight, evaluation, and maintenance of fair and equitable credentials and assessments which advance the profession of facility management.

Responsible for ensuring impartiality in all credentials activities, the Certification Commission shall exercise due diligence in recognizing and acting on threats to impartiality, which include but are not limited to, self-interest, activities with related bodies, relationships of personnel, financial interests, favoritism, conflict of interest, familiarity and intimidation.

The Certification Commission shall periodically conduct a threat analysis to determine the potential, both real and perceived, of an individual or an organization to influence the certification process for their own gain.

Conflict of Interest

A conflict of interest may be defined as an interest that might affect, or might reasonably appear likely to affect, the judgment or conduct of an individual associated with the Certification Commission and its committees.

A conflict of interest may exist when the interests or concerns or potential interests or concerns of any staff member, contractor or volunteer, or any individual, group or organization to which one of these people has allegiance, may compete with the interests or concerns of the Certification Commission and its committees, or may impair these people's independence or loyalty to IFMA's credential program and its committees.

The integrity of the Certification Commission and IFMA's credential programs rest on the fact that stakeholders who have a specific interest do not participate in credential-related decisions from which they may benefit. This is accomplished by self-declaration of the individual as well as implementation of policies that define conflicts of interest for the Certification Commission and the personnel associated with it, whether volunteer, staff or contractors.

The presence of, and potential for, a conflict of interest is reviewed and addressed on an ongoing basis.

Professional Conduct Policies

Code of Conduct

I shall have as my primary goal developing and managing safe, human, and functional work spaces.

I shall integrate the needs of management with the needs of people in the workplace to develop and manage humane and effective work environments.

I shall have as an achievable goal maintaining objective, professional judgments. I shall not compromise this judgment by undertaking any activity, accepting any contribution or having any conflict of interest that would prevent acting in the best interest of my employer, clients, or those people for whom I provide or maintain workplaces.

I shall practice in a manner that supports the rights of employers, employees and clients, and shall not discriminate because of race, sex, creed, age, religion, disability, national origin or sexual orientation.

I shall continually seek new information to maintain and upgrade my professional skills relative to the design, construction, maintenance and management of the built environment as it relates to people and processes.

Sanctions and Invalidating a Certificate

Sanctions may be imposed and/or a certification earned by completing IFMA's certification requirements may be invalidated by the Certification Commission when it has been discovered that the certification should not have been issued in the first place and/or for any of the following reasons:

- Obtaining the certification through the use of fraud or deceit or assisting another person to do so; or
- Unauthorized possession, distribution, or use of any assessment-related materials or assisting another person to do so; or
- Failure to cooperate reasonably with any disciplinary investigation by the designee or Certification Commission; or
- Violation of the Code of Conduct for CFMs, Commission certification rules, requirements, and/or policies.

If a CFM credential is invalidated, the person previously holding the credential will cease using the designation and logo immediately. Violation may be cause for legal action.

Ownership of the Certification Mark and Logo Use

Property

The credential marks and logos are the property of IFMA. Permission to use the credential marks or logos is granted to credentialed persons at the discretion of IFMA for permissible uses only.

Persons Authorized to Use the Marks

Use of the IFMA credential marks and logos is limited to those persons who have been granted a credential by the Certification Commission and who satisfy all established requirements. Use of the mark and logo by individuals who have not been granted the credential with a current term of validity is expressly prohibited. Individuals may not use the credential until they have received specific written notification that they have successfully completed all requirements, including passing the exam. Certificants must comply with all recertification requirements to maintain use of the credential.

Non-Assignability and Non-Transferability

Permission to use the credential mark is limited to the credential holder, and shall not be transferred to, assigned to, or otherwise used by any other individual, organization, or entity.

Mark and Logo Use

Those persons who have been granted permission to use a credential mark and logo shall do so pursuant to the rules and guidelines established by IFMA. Persons granted permission to use a credential mark and logo must familiarize themselves with the established rules and guidelines for use and must execute approved agreements setting forth such rules and guidelines for use.

After meeting all eligibility requirements and passing the examination, individuals may use Certified Facility Management (CFM) credential in all correspondence and professional relations. The credential is typically used after the certificant's name following any academic degrees and licensure (e.g. Mary Smith, MBA, CFM or Mary Smith, CFM).

The IFMA marks and logo may not be revised or altered in any way. They must be displayed in the same form as produced by IFMA and cannot be reproduced unless such reproduction is identical to the mark provided by IFMA.

The mark or logo may be used only on business cards, stationary, letterhead and similar documents on which the name of the individual credentialed is prominently displayed.

The mark or logo may not be used in any manner which could bring IFMA into disrepute or in any way considered misleading or unauthorized. The mark or logo may not be used in any manner which would tend to imply a connection between any business and the credential which, in fact, may not exist. This includes any use of the mark or logo that the public might construe as an endorsement, approval or sponsorship by IFMA of a credential holder's business or any product or service thereof.

Ethics Requirement for CFM Exam Candidates and CFM Recertifications:

All CFM Exam Applicants are required to take an Ethics Assessment prior to issuance of the CFM certificate. Additionally, all CFMs recertifying, will be required to take the Ethics Assessment once every 6 years, or with every other recertification period.

Rationale: IFMA is a member of the International Ethics Standards Coalition (IESC), which has created an ethical framework for the global property market. As a result, the CFM Scheme Committee has determined that an Ethics Assessment will be required for all current CFMs, as well as CFM credential applicants.

Process: The CFM Scheme Committee has determined the criteria for programs meeting the standards of the IESC, and thus far, have chosen two programs which meet the requirements, one is the RICS Ethics Assessment and the other is HR Training Courses – Code of Business Conduct and Ethics Training.

The HR Training Course is accessed through your CAMP record. Login to your CAMP record and first complete the CFM Ethics Training Pmt Form - HR Classroom. You will receive a link and instructions for the training. It takes about 30 minutes to complete. When you finish, upload the certificate into this form: CFM Ethics Training Completion Form

If a CFM's employer has an Ethics Assessment which employees take as part of in-service training, the course can be submitted in the CAMP program using the CFM Ethics Completion Form and the Ethics Submission Form for approval. Please contact credentials@ifma.org for additional information.

Impact:

- All CFM applicants are required to complete an Ethics Assessment before achieving the CFM credential.
- All recertifying CFMs will complete the assessment to recertify.
- CFMs will be required to complete the assessment every six (6) years, or every other renewal term.
- Employer sponsored in-service training Ethics Courses can be submitted for approval and used to meet this requirement.

The ethical principles below must be included in Employer Sponsored Ethics Training.

I. Confidentiality: Practitioners shall not disclose any confidential or proprietary information without prior permission, unless such disclosure is required by applicable laws or regulations.

2. Disclosure: Practitioners shall make all appropriate disclosures before and during the performance of a service. If, after disclosure, a conflict cannot be removed or mitigated, the practitioner shall withdraw from the matter or obtain written consent of the parties affected to continue.

Rules and Policies for RCFM

The Retired CFM designation is only appropriate for those who do not intend to continue representing themselves as CFMs in the practice of FM. The Retired CFM status will allow individuals to show their association with the certification even though they are no longer maintaining it.

2. There will be no age requirement for the Retired CFM status.
3. In order to apply for Retired CFM status, a CFM must be active and no more than six months past the expiration date of their most recent recertification period.
4. The fee for the Retired CFM status is $95.00
5. There are no renewal requirements for Retired CFMs. The status is effective for the individual's lifetime.
6. There will be an application form for the Retired CFM status which will indicate agreement with the terms of the retired CFM status.
7. If a candidate chooses the RCFM status and later wishes to revert to the active CFM status, he will be required to apply for and pass the CFM exam.
